My name is Lord David John Nickless and I live in the uk with Christine my partner, my twin kids Jake and Chantelle, along with my step-daughter Faye.

I own part of a Scottish Highland Estate and due to Scottish Law, I am officially a Lord!!

I have had quite a chequered life as you will read below!!

Regardless of me being based in the uk, we all know the WEB is worldwide, so this should have no bearing on myself being your Mentor regardless of what country you are in!!

I am here to help you to be successful, as are my team as well.

With the free availability of e-mail, phones e.t.c, plus you`ll also get my teams full back up for training which is second to none, you will be working with us all for the good of yourself and also of the team.

With this in mind, you will be safe in the knowledge that you are not being left alone and we will hold your hand and help you every step of the way from Day One!!

My story:-

1.32pm Sunday the 22nd August 1982.....A time and date that will always stay in my mind!!!

Why's that Dave, I hear you say?

At that time and date, I was involved in a very bad motorbike accident, where my back tyre blew and I went across the road and hit a car coming the other way head on, with a combined impact speed of over 150mph!!!

I was not in a good way, I broke my back, my pelvis in 3 places, legs, arms, ribs and my heel bone came out the back on my left ankle, along with a part of my motorbike's fairing going through my stomach and out my back like a knife!! I was rushed to hospital and effectively died on 3 occasions, but I was resuscitated with the good old jump leads, just like in the films!!

Due to the state my body was in, I went into a deep coma for 6 months.

Now taking into account before the accident I was a keen rugby, football and cricket player, along with doing body building, the doctors of the time stated that due to my fitness level, this is what really saved my life along with me having an exceptionally strong will to live.

After coming out of the coma, the doctors came to see me and I asked them, "Would I be able to play my favourite sports again?" The answer was a resounding "NO".

I asked, "Would I be able to walk again?" The doctor looked edgy and said very kindly that I should thank my lucky stars that I was still alive after having such a horrendous accident and advised that I should just concentrate on getting better!! This answer from the doctor I took as a "NO" that I wouldn't be able to walk again, as I had also realised that I couldn't move my legs at this time anyway.

Things got worse, two policemen came in and prosecuted me for Careless Driving and imposed a 6 months ban on me, but back dated the ban 6 months to the date of the accident, along with a £500 fine!!

I didn't care, I wasn't going to be driving or riding a bike again!! Or so I thought at the time!!

Furthermore, my girlfriend's parents of the time both told her that I would not make anything of my life and that she should end the relationship, as I would be paralysed, which upset me alot!!!

Could things get any worse for me?

My parents were fantastic and very supportive, but I made a promise to myself there and then that I would walk again and I would also prove to the ex-girlfriends parents that I would make something out of my life, regardless of how long it took!! I spent a further 2 years in re-hab and whilst I was in there, I met a very nice older chap who told me about Faith Healers, so having nothing to lose, my parents took me up to London to meet some faith healers and I was still in my wheelchair at this time.

We met two lovely old ladies, had a cup of tea in bone china cups and saucers and then I was taken into the back room by one of them.

We had a little chat about what had happened in my accident, what my injuries had been and then she ran her hands down the full length of my my body, not touching me, just very near and I could feel a lovely warm feeling.

I wasn't sure if it was because I was embarrassed or it was something much deeper, but once we were finished, all that went through my mind was that Monty Python film, The Life of Brian, where the guy is on crutches and thinks he's healed, so he throws his crutches away and then falls over.

I do have a warped sense of humour you'll find out!!

Well, nothing happened, I still couldn't walk, so we thanked them and left.

6 months later, I started getting pins and needles and shooting pains down my left leg and then a few months later the same down my right leg and over the following 6 months, I could walk with crutches, albeit not very well.

Number One

I had proven the doctors wrong, albeit I am still to this day paralysed from my right knee down and wear a calliper and my left ankle is arthritic from the heal bone coming out the back of my foot in the accident , but I had proved the doctors wrong.

Number 2 was next.....

I now had this burning desire to prove my ex-girlfriends parents wrong and that I would not be a loser in life and that I would prove to them that I could make a go of my life.

You need to understand, that from a very early age, my Father had instilled in my two Brothers and myself, something that had been passed down from my Grandfather to my Father as follows:-

We have always been told that no matter what walk of life we choose to take and no matter what job we do, we were told to do it to our best ability and if we did, nobody could take that away from us. If were to be a road sweeper, we would be required to have the cleanest streets in town and so on.

This very strong statement, I have now passed down and instilled in my kids!!

Getting back to Number 2, for 2 years I went round the job centres every single day. I went for interviews most days, but to no avail. They would take one look at me on crutches and dismiss me, although I knew I could do the job and do it exceptionally well.

My break came 5 years after my accident, I got a job as a credit Controller and within 6 months, I was the top collector for outstanding debts and this was out of a team of 16 credit controllers.

I moved on within a 12 month period to Rank Xerox, as it was nearer to home and again, within less than a year, I became the top collector.

Due to this I had been recognised by management and given the opportunity to get promoted to Supervisor of Major Accounts and be personally responsible for collecting £20 million/$40 million a month from the likes of Marconi, Merryl Lynch e.t.c. and still run a team of 20 in the background.

This I achieved within 3 months and at the same time, reducing the days outstanding for debts down from 150 days to 60-90 days in most cases.

I was on my way to proving my ex-girlfriends parents wrong, as I was on a pretty decent income by now, however, I got bored, as I found it too easy and didn't understand why others at the time struggled.

I saw an advert in a local paper for a Trainee Mortgage Broker 2 years later, a total career change, but I knew I could do the job in my mind!! My training was to sit with a qualified guy for one week and then be given 3 branches of estate agents after the 1 weeks training.

I learnt real quick from my mistakes!!

I became the top mortgage consultant within 9 months of starting this new job for the whole of the South East of England within Countrywide Estate Agents.

I then set up a Partnership with a work colleague in 1990 and we started our own business!!

This worked ok for 5 to 6 years, but as I was doing roughly 80% of the business and only getting 50% of the proceeds, I split the Partnership in 1996 and went alone on my own.

I had 3 phones sitting in front of me the first day I went it alone, no admin back up, I had to do the lot and I would juggle these phones all day long talking to clients, Lenders e.t.c. and interviewing clients face to face.

In 2003, I worked as a Consultant for The Zurich Group and within 2 months of joining as an ADFC, which is the top level, I broke the all time high achievement for commissions earnt in one month.

I was given the target to earn in one month, what many earnt in a year, it was called the Kestrel level, which was equivalent to around £60,000/$120,000 in a month for life sales.

This I achieved with 4 working days to go in the month.

I was the first person to achieve this within the Zurich Group UK and I think it still stands to this day.

Goal Number Two has now been achieved and was several years ago!!!!!!!

I hope you have enjoyed a bit of the background into my life, my ambitions, my goals, my determination and my dedication e.t.c

I treat everyone the same, whether you earn £10,000/$20,000`s a year or you earn £1 million/$2 million a year.

Since turning to the internet, I have never looked back and a large amount of my business is by referral by satisfied clients who have in turn recommended their friends and family to me and I am fully aware of the value of residual income, it is your life blood.

You need someone behind you who is successful, who not only knows the internet but normal business values as well and you can be safe in the knowledge that I know both very well.
